

CLINICAL TRACKS

These clinical lectures are unique to the Future of Aesthetics Virtual Summit, where our leading experts will share their methodologies and insights that you can enjoy from the comfort of your own home.

Clinical Tracks

Advancements in Regenerative Medicine

Discover this rapidly expanding and exciting area of aesthetics. Learn how you can include autologous procedures into your treatment protocols. Topics include platelet-rich plasma (PRP), growth factors, stem cell-based solutions, tissue re-engineering, and much more.

Cutting-Edge Laser Technologies: Advancing Precision in Aesthetic Procedures

We continue to see the expansion of lasers, radiofrequency and light-based technologies in the aesthetic sector. With the focus on efficacy and safety, technologies have enabled us to improve the ease of use, create better outcomes with less downtime. Learn how practitioners are using these technologies in their markets and the amazing results they are achieving.

Clinical Tracks

The Thread Lift Revolution: Mastering the Art of Non-Surgical Facial Rejuvenation

We have seen a significant advancement in facial rejuvenation and non-surgical face-lifting since the early 90's. Learn about the safety and efficacy of this treatment and the outstanding results you can achieve for your patients.

Essentials: Facial Analysis– Every Face is Unique

Explore the fundamental principles of facial analysis, emphasizing the individuality of each face. Attendees will learn essential techniques to accurately assess facial features and proportions, enabling personalized treatment plans tailored to each unique individual.

Full Face Mastery: Strategies from Master Practitioners

This complex anatomical unit requires detailed understanding of the relationships between the periorbital region including tear trough, and the surrounding mid face, Natural confluent results which do not become puffy or over done over time remain a challenge. Hear our global experts demonstrate and share their techniques and insights.

Clinical Tracks

A New Era of Sexual Health: Emerging Trends in Sexual Wellness and Rejuvenation

These sessions you will gain a deeper understanding of the various factors that affect sex drive, sexual function and pleasure, as well as the technologies and treatments being used for women's and men's intimate health.

Turning Setbacks into Success: Strategies for Effectively Managing Complications

These sessions have a strong emphasis on safety. You will learn about critical analysis concerning complication management, supported by a detailed practical component exploring the concepts surrounding the recognition, diagnosis and management of a variety of complications encountered through botulinum toxin & dermal filler treatments.

Clinical Tracks

The Skincare Revolution: Exploring the Latest Innovations in Skincare Technology

There are many anti-aging skin care cosmeceuticals on the market and the science can be confusing. Become more familiar with the applications, efficiencies and effectiveness of common ingredients and products so you can ensure you have the right product offerings in your practice.

Masters – Beyond the Face

Learn advanced facial contouring on facial anatomy, injection techniques with needle and cannula treating complex areas such as tear troughs, jaw and chin, non-surgical rhinoplasty and hands.

Masters: Upper Face and Temples

The upper face presents many aesthetic and anatomical challenges – this session focuses on four injection Masters who have developed distinct and unique approaches to forehead and temple treatments.

Clinical Tracks

Injectables Across Borders: Understanding Global Trends and Practices

The mainstay of aesthetic practice remains the injectable botulinum toxins, dermal and soft tissue fillers. This session focuses on how global experts approach all aspects of facial rejuvenation with injectables from the artistry, the science, and optimisation of outcomes.

Fat Transfer Mastery: Techniques and Technologies for Optimal Results

With the increase in consumer demand around the world for treatments that are more natural to the body, clinics are feeling the pressures to add Autologous Fat Grafting to their procedural portfolio. You will have the opportunity to learn about indications, techniques and complications/management surrounding Fat Grafting in both the face and body.

Masters: Medical Rhinoplasty

Take a deep dive into the intricate artistry and advanced techniques of medical rhinoplasty, led by master practitioners in the field. Attendees will explore the nuances of nasal anatomy, patient assessment, and the latest surgical innovations for achieving optimal aesthetic and functional outcomes.

Clinical Tracks

Weight Loss Revolution: Advances and Innovations in the Field

From breakthrough research to emerging technologies and novel strategies, attendees will gain insights into the latest developments driving the weight loss revolution. Experts will discuss promising methodologies, trends, and transformative ideas shaping the future of weight management, offering a comprehensive overview for professionals and enthusiasts alike.

Masters: Mid Face & Periorbital

This complex anatomical unit requires detailed understanding of the relationships between the periorbital region including tear trough, and the surrounding mid face, Natural confluent results which do not become puffy or over done over time remain a challenge. Hear our global experts demonstrate and share their techniques and insights.